

Our Purpose

LCHE is a support group for home schooling families. We seek to further the interests of the education of children by their parents by all lawful means. We want to keep you informed of legislation affecting the right of parents to direct the education and upbringing of their children. LCHE offers programs to educate teaching parents, field trips, a learning cooperative, and other educational and extra-curricular activities for members of LCHE. While LCHE strives to serve all homeschoolers, we are comprised of members who believe in God and seek to live their lives by the moral standards delivered in His Word, the Bible.
